FROM THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Three years of chasing volume taught us what a missed window costs. In FY2025 we did the opposite: we published a capacity number every Monday, we sold only against it, and we said no to the rest. Revenue still grew 22%, because reliable capacity prices better than available capacity.

We turned down $2.6M of freight we could not move on time – and grew margin four hundred basis points.

Savannah and Tacoma opened in September and January. Both hit break-even inside two quarters, which is faster than the Long Beach site managed in FY2022, and both were staffed from inside the company. Bonded warehousing grew 31% on the back of them and is now more than a quarter of revenue.

What did not go well: we underpriced the first six months of the cross-dock contract book and carried it to term, and a February systems migration cost us four days of visibility across the Gulf lanes. Neither repeats in FY2026.

Both openings were financed from operating cash and a $1.8M equipment line, and we closed the year with net debt of $2.2M against EBITDA of $2.9M. The balance sheet is deliberately boring: the interesting decisions belong on the yard, not in the capital structure.

REVENUE · FIVE YEARS

Columns are revenue in $M on one zero-based $0–$20M scale. Five-year compound growth is 23.5% a year.

BASIS OF PREPARATION

Figures are audited consolidated results for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025, prepared under US GAAP. EBITDA is operating income before depreciation of $0.91M and amortisation of $0.06M. TEU counts twenty-foot equivalent units physically handled, not billed movements. Comparatives are restated for the FY2024 reclassification of brokerage disbursements.
